OVERVIEW

SAMHSA's GAINS Center for Behavioral Health and Justice Transformation, operated by Policy Research Associates, Inc. (PRA), is known nationally for its work in regard to people with behavioral health needs involved in the criminal justice system. The GAINS Center is soliciting applications from communities interested in developing integrated strategies to better identify and respond to the needs of adults with co-occurring mental and substance use disorders in contact with the criminal justice system. Sequential Intercept Mapping (SIM) is designed to allow local, multidisciplinary teams of people from jurisdictions to facilitate collaboration and to identify and discuss ways in which barriers between the criminal justice, mental health, and substance use systems can be reduced and to begin development of integrated local plans.

PURPOSE & BACKGROUND

Sequential Intercept Mapping (SIM) is a 1.5-day workshop that develops a map that illustrates how people with behavioral health needs come in contact with and flow through the criminal justice system. SIM workshops bring together key stakeholders to create a local "systems map" utilizing the framework of the Sequential Intercept Model and establish priorities and opportunities through a strategic planning process.

THE SEQUENTIAL INTERCEPT MODEL

During the SIM workshop, opportunities and resources are identified for diverting people out of the criminal justice system at various intercepts along the Sequential Intercept Model and into appropriate behavioral health services. As part of the mapping process, critical gaps in services are identified and summarized. Based on the mapping exercise and identified service gaps, opportunities for systems change and practice improvement are identified. Participants determine areas where immediate steps will result in a more cohesive, integrated approach to service delivery, and a local set of priorities for change is established. On the second day of the workshop, these priorities will be used to develop a community-specific action plan. Throughout this process, the GAINS Center staff provides examples of successful systems integration and promising programs from around the U.S.

By facilitating cross-system communication and collaboration, the SIM workshop helps identify underused resources, improves the early identification of people with mental and substance use disorders coming into contact with the criminal justice system, increases effective service linkage, reduces the likelihood of recycling through the criminal justice system, enhances community safety, and improves quality of life for people in the community.

SITE SELECTION

SAMHSA's GAINS Center for Behavioral Health and Justice Transformation will offer this workshop free of charge to selected communities between May and August 2017. There are no fees for registration, tuition, or materials associated with these workshops. The GAINS Center will pay all costs associated with pre and post-workshop coordination, conference calls, and facilitator time and travel.

Communities selected for these workshops must be able to provide facilities and A/V to comfortably accommodate up to 40 event participants. Further details will be provided to communities selected to participate.

To be considered, all must applications must be received by February 24, 2017. Selected communities will be notified on or before March 14, 2017.

TARGET AUDIENCE/TRAINING PARTICIPANTS

The target audiences for this training are community-based criminal justice system professionals, including police, community corrections (probation, parole, and pretrial services officers), judges and court personnel, and human service providers. Since the training is highly interactive in nature, to achieve maximum participation for all attendees, each workshop is limited to 40 participants.

TARGET ATTENDEE GROUPS:

- Criminal Justice System Professionals (police officers, dispatchers, correction officers, probation officers, judges, attorneys, bail commissioners, pretrial services, bail commissioners.)
- Mental Health Professionals (psychologists, psychiatrists, social workers, supervisors, program managers, administrators, etc.)
- Substance Use Professionals (chemical dependency counselors, substance use specialists, supervisors, program managers, administrators, etc.)
- First Responders/Crisis Services (EMS, mobile crisis, detoxification services, suicide prevention staff, domestic violence workers)
- Peer Representatives and Family Members, including Peer-Operated and Family-Operated Organizations
- Housing and Community Support Services (housing providers, homeless outreach teams, local SSI/Medicaid agency representatives, etc.)
- Cultural Organizations and Local Foundations
- Elected Officials

KEY STAKEHOLDER PARTICIPANTS:

- Administrators from the local city police and county sheriff's departments;
- Administrator from the local jail;
- Administrator from the local public mental health agency (e.g., county mental health department);
- Administrator from the local public substance use agency;
- Administrator from the local housing authority or homeless continuum of care;
- People with lived experience in both the criminal justice and behavioral health systems;
- Judges and court staff (prosecutor, defense counsel/public defender, court administrator; bail commissioner);
- Administrator from the local probation and pretrial services department(s);
- State Department of Corrections and Parole regional representatives

APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS

It is required that each community submitting an application for consideration identify leaders within their community that support this project and are dedicated to allocating staff time to participate in the workshop activities. Support must be illustrated by a written letter of support or commitment from community partners.

This must include administrators from the following local agencies:

- Law enforcement
- Jail
- Court(s)
- Mental health and substance use services
- Probation Department

In addition, communities selected must agree to participate in the following:

- Pre-workshop planning conference call(s) with GAINS Center staff;
- Local planning committee activities on an as needed basis to determine participants, recruit participants for workshop, confirm logistical arrangements, etc.
- Provide space to host workshop – space must be able to comfortably accommodate up to a total of 42 people (up to 40 training participants and 2 GAINS Center staff)
- Participate in SIM workshop.

Following the workshop, communities will receive a formal copy of their systems map and local action plan.

Since the Sequential Intercept Mapping (SIM) workshop is designed to bring communities that may be at varying “points of readiness” through a series of exercises that culminate in a comprehensive systems map and a set of local priorities for change with concrete action steps, “readiness for change” is a critical element to determine if the SIM workshop fits the needs of a given community. “Readiness for change” is a subjective term requiring the review of how well your mental health, criminal justice, and substance use services are integrated. To determine which applicant communities would benefit most from the SIM workshop, it is important to evaluate your community using a scale that assesses integration on a scale from ‘information sharing’ through ‘full integration’ (Konrad, 1996):

Level	Activities
Information Sharing and Communication	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Talk with one another • Willingness to help on ad hoc basis • Share information
Cooperation and Coordination	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Do joint planning on specific program components • Joint staff meetings • Factor in what is happening on other side when operating programs • Coordinate client referral process
Collaboration	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Informal/formal joint planning • Joint funding • Written MOUs; interagency agreements • Effort to share funding/services
Consolidation	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Formalized joint planning • Regular meetings of key players • Cross-training of staff • Designated planning council • Clients seen as shared responsibility
Integration	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Shared funding of key positions (boundary-spanners) • Unified intake and assessment • Joint budget development
